Emergency Preparedness Memorandum of Wishes Template Letter

On the next page you will find a template letter for you to complete and store with your Will. This letter provides guidance for your Executors on how you would like them to distribute your prepping gear and supplies in the event of your death.

Please Note The following:

A Memorandum of Wishes sometimes known as a Letter of Wishes is not a (Will) Last Will and Testament. It is a Letter that can be stored with your Will to declare to your executors your wishes for specific personal possessions that you wish to gift to specific Beneficiaries in the event of your death.

Whilst you can sign and date a Letter of Wishes you should never have it witnessed. Doing this would cause conflict with your main Last Will and Testament. Remember a Will is a legal document a letter of wishes is simply a letter from you to your executors telling them that if circumstances allow these are your wishes. Your main Will should always take precedent.

Please do not staple or attach letters to your main Will documents as this could indicate tampering if they became detached.

Prepperbits.com serve a global audience and as such we provide this Letter of Wishes as a free download and offer no warranty for the document. In other words, you use it at your own risk. If you are in any doubt about legal matters relating to your specific geographical location you should seek advice from an Attorney, Lawyer, Solicitor or an appropriate legal adviser.
